

The Horrid Dragon

There was an ancient kingdom in the middle of nowhere.

That was bushy, horrifying, creepy, so spooky, wild.

Opps! did I say in the middle of nowhere, I meant in the middle of the jungle.

And in that jungle there lived Joshua who as adventurous, brave had ratted clothes and the same for Dylan (that's me) and Anthony.

Underneath the jungle lived a horrid, disagreeable, bad-looking, horrifying and fire breathing dragon. Who comes up and destroyed the Kingdom and that is how we get the ratted like monster looking clothes.

The next morning they head out into the jungle to wash our clothes then suddenly the fire breathing dragon popped out and we cried "we meet a ???"

What do you want this time. I want to kill you so you turned into slushy soup so my family can have some slushy soup for tea.

I'd like to see you try.

So they fight for night, day, night, day, night, day. "Yeah, you better run"

"Wait they took Joshua" We have won! but we are still going to find Joshua, yes, yes we are. So they took days and days, at last we are here.

"There he is hanging on string head up AND there is some lava at the bottom".

"I'll distract him and you pull the gigantic pot and cut the rope. So they did that and live happily but grotesque and bad looking.
