

The Great Trip

Once there was a lovely beautiful attractive castle but it wasn't empty at all in it lived a family of four.

There was only four of them in the castle. The kids were rich as well of course. They have many toys and clothes. The parents taught the kids how to ride horses. They would not need to get around places.

One day the kids went for a walk, and suddenly they were lost in the middle of the jungle!! They didn't know where to go.

So they thought that they could maybe find somewhere to sleep the night and the next day they could try find their way home but all of a sudden there standing in front of them it was some jungle wizards on a magical pathway. Tinker Bell yelled "Can you help us?" "Yes we can" yelled the Jungle Cat leader of the wizards. "I will take you back to our house to make sure you aren't another wizard family" yelled the Jungle Cat leader. "Ok" yelled Tinker Bell.

So they set off to the amazing jungle house. When they got there, you will never believe this, it was their parents! But how were they going to get home.

So the wizards said we know where you live!!!

The next day they were home as usual, they all yelled yay we are home!!! but they thought that it was real, it really wasn't.

It was a dream.
